THE RAZORBACK—"Woof! Woof! Woof! Woof!"

To
The Memory of
The Cardinal
Which For So Long Has Served Us As The College Annual.
This, The First Number Of The Razorback
Is Respectfully Dedicated

19  16

Explanation

There will perhaps be some who will question the propriety of changing the name of our college annual from The Cardinal to The Razorback. It is for those that we are attempting this explanation.

It has been the custom in a number of the larger universities and colleges to designate the annual by the school's nickname, and consequently the annual can be recognized as far as the school name is known. For example in the name The Gopher we recognize Minnesota University, in The Jayhawker, Kansas; in The Badger, Wisconsin; in The Longhorn, Texas; in The Sooner, Oklahoma, and so on with numerous other cases.

Likewise in the name The Razorback, almost anyone in the South or Middle-West will recognize the book as a University of Arkansas publication, while if it is the name The Cardinal that one sees, further marks of identification must be sought to reveal the source. Our idea then in changing the name is obvious.

We hope this change will meet with such approval by the student body of the University as to warrant its being made permanent.

.....English and Education.
Horatio.

Skull and Torch; President of Y. W. C. A.; Student Council; Arkansan Staff; Sapphic;
Vice-President of Senior Class; President of Women's Dormitory.

Like radium she is constantly giving out energy and losing practically nothing.

MCBRIDE, JOHN EDWARD, KA.....
.....Chemistry.

Fort Smith.

They say "Mac" is crazy about the women, but of late is down on them. A chemistry major seldom seen around that building.

McKINNEY, RUTH, ΠΒΦ.....Biology.

Corning.

Question Club; Social Com. of Y. W.; Cardinal Staff, '15.

Ruth is an enthusiast in college activities and in spite of her devotion to bugs and all things biological, is very human.

 Major.

"Cyke" is an actor of no mean ability, which, along with other things of course, probably accounts for his status with the ladies.

WOMACK, VEE.....Education.
 Hugo, Okla.

Just Vee. Conquests in love have not made her sentimental. She is a terror in Carnall Hall.

ELMO KNOCH.

He said that he was not a woman and he refused to put on a cap and gown. That made us curious to see how he would look in one so we had a picture drawn.

At Twenty-three.

JUST TWENTY YEARS DIFFERENCE.

It is surprising how little change may take place in a human being in the long period of twenty years. At the age of three the subject looks very promising, but how disappointed his fond relatives must be now—in his looks of course, for Mack has really made quite a record at the University.

At Three.

P. X. RICE.

He knew that if he had a photograph made all his friends would want one, so we made a portrait of him.

A Dormitory Girl.—“Guess who called me up? Jim!”

Chorus.—“Ye Gods!!!”

Irene (entering).—“Ye Gods? Who said Ye Gods? Have I another rival?”

Stubby Hicks (in Contracts and Specifications class).—“Professor, if a contractor refused possession of a house because the owner refused to pay him, could not the owner declare the house a nuisance on his land and confiscate it?”

Professor Gladson.—“No, Mr. Hicks, the contractor would declare the owner a nuisance for not paying him.”

Miss Prather.—“Mr. Coker, are you going to the agri stunt?”

Marion Coker.—“No, I’m not an agri.”

Miss Prather.—“You ought to be.”

THE CLASS OF 1916

The sweet girl graduate, one glad June day,
Sat before a table, where her memory book lay;
She touched very lightly the U. of A. seal
As if she half doubted—if it were real.
With a touch almost reverent, she fingered the pages
As if it contained all the deeds of the ages;
When she opened the book, the first thing to be seen
Was a long line of pig tails, tied with huge bows of green,
'Twas the first worthy record of the class of '16.
Class athletics, next in order came,
With Cooke, Sadler and Dubs all stars in each game;
Such records of victory were n'er seen before
The first two years told a wonderful score. (13-0)
The third year showed victory—or almost the same,
The letters were written "Seniors Forfeit the Game!"
For the Senior game—something seemed to lack—
No score written down—just a ribbon of black.
To an interesting page, she now turned her fancies,
Here—the programs and menus of banquets and dances.
The pilgrim maiden with snow white pinafore
Brought back memories of a Junior dance of yore.
A "Zu Zu", the only thing left of those stolen sweets
Acquired in the combat for the Junior-Senior eats.
The last page was one to view with pride,
There was told the story of how 1916 had defied
All the ancient traditions and started not a few Precedents and customs, quite as good as new.
First their advisory system—a success the faculty say,
Then the presentation of a "cozy" concrete "A",
And at the bottom of the page, written in convenient nick

CLASS OFFICERS.

J. E. STEVENSON.....President.
 LENTES CARMICHAEL.....Vice-President,
 MARGARET CALLAHAN.....Secretary.
 W. P. CAMPBELL.....Treasurer.

19  16

PEYTON CAMPBELL—"I think we need a little 'pep' in this class."

ALRIGHT, CHESTER

She found a quotation for every other girl in the class but she could not find one that she thought would do for herself.

AUSTIN, R. H., ("Agri")

It is peculiar that the junior class representatives should come at the very first of the roll, but the class decided that the best was not last.

BOYD, D. T.

Still water runs deep. Drury is chief musician in the band.

BEST, J. B. (Abscstos)

He wanted to rush the ladies but the Bachelors' Club would not let him go.

BROWN, HAZEL

"Bid me discourse and I will enchant thine ear."

CABE, ETHEL

"She is a woman, therefore may be wooed."

CALLAHAN, MARGARET

"Happy am I; from care I'm free,
Why can't they all be contented like me?"

CABLER, CLEVELAND

Swollen with pride. A good orator and one of the Varsity debaters against Oklahoma.

CAMPBELL, W. P.

The pride of the ladies. He made such a hit in his gold braid that he had no trouble finding his battalion maid.

CARMICHAEL, LENTES

"Persuasive speech and more persuasive sighs, Silence that speaks and eloquence of eyes."
The junior class could not get along without her.

CHEEVER, E. H. (Ned)

For many years a banker, but still quite young.

A newcomer among us, but already quite popular.

CLARK, C. L.

Quite a ladies' man. He was very fond of the "Young" ladies.

COCHRAN, M. W.

Maurice has found a rival. Who? Paul.

CONNER, CHRISTINE

COFFEY, JEWEL

"Fluency of speech is seldom of real use except to spread out a small idea over a large space."

COVINGTON, MAXIE

"Rich in saving, common sense."

CRAIG, A. H.

A well-known writer he would be.

DANIELS, J. B.

The beautiful boy from Dermott.

FERGUSON, CHRISTELLE

"Exceedingly well read." This is her first year among us, but she has already distinguished herself.

FORD, C. B.

He is always ready to step into the gap.

FISHER, M. F.

Silver-tongued orator of the junior class. The one who started the measles.

GILMORE, LUCILE

"Of manners gentle, of affections mild."

HEERWAGEN, RUTH

"A creature not too bright or good,
For human nature's daily food."

HARRINGTON, ALICE

"Cookery has become an art,
A noble science."

HEATH, I. J.

Irvin always says something but it takes him a long time to say it.

HENSON, J. A.

A gentleman of leisure, sure, but he always gets by.

HEERWAGEN, P. K.

An agri of some repute. You may judge his ability by taking a squint at the agri section of The Razorback.

HARRELL, T. L.

"The world will be what it will be, so what is the use to worry."

HORNER, JOHN (Jack)

Agri, orator, good-fellow, and ladies' man, all combined; and quite a combination it is.

HORNER, ZENA

"The joy of youth and health, her eyes display."

HUSTON, MARY

"I live and love and am happy."

ILLING, LEO M. H.

The fifty thousand dollar kid. A new-comer at the U.

JENKINS, CATHERINE

"Charms strike the heart, but merit wins the soul."

JONES, D. W.

Quiet and unobtrusive, but some politician if it were only known.

JOHNSON, B. E.

Slow but sure, maybe. He has registered in more courses than any other man at the U.

RICHARDSON, C. O.

No, "R" doesn't come between "J" and "K" in our alphabet, but Richardson can be stuck in just anywhere.

KITCHENS, C. E. (Kitch)

A great doctor of medicine. Family physician for Gray Hall.

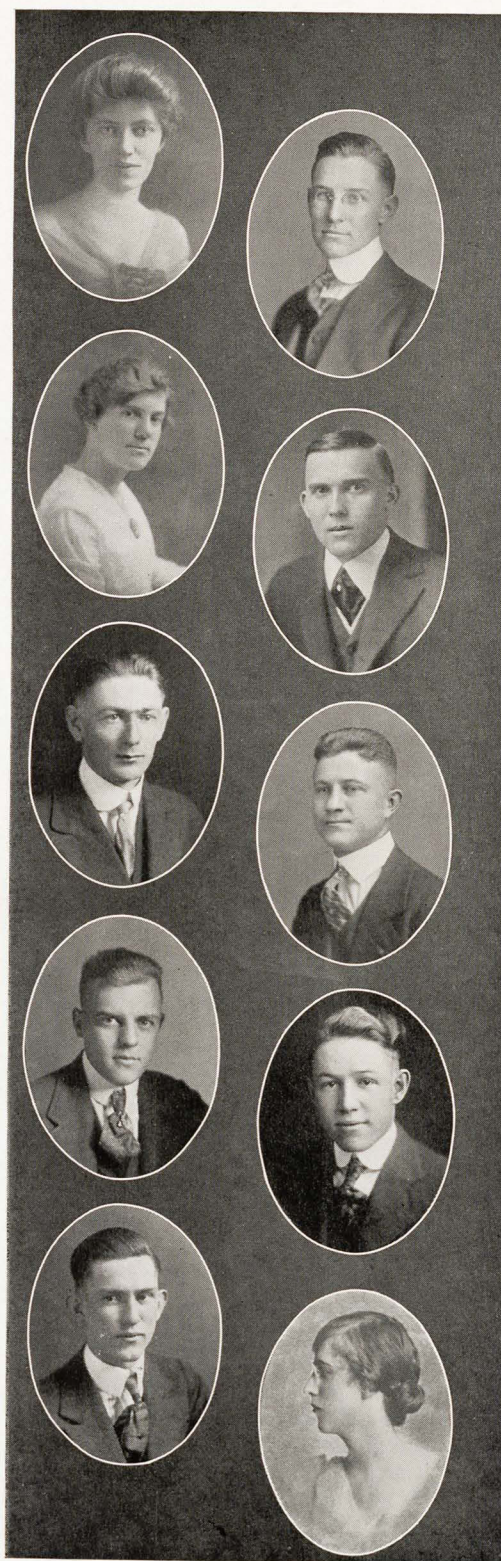

MARKLE, EVA

"Her voice was ever soft, Gentle and low, an excellent thing in woman."

LAWSON, H. M. (Chubby)

The pride of Company B.

McCOY, NORA

"They are truly great who are truly good."

MYERS, C. B.

That classical looking gentleman with glasses.
He is always willing to help.

MENDENHALL, RUBY

"Neat—not gaudy."

MCGAUGHY, J. B.

Fate made me what I am.

MERRILL, N. D.

He is not a fish but a chemistry shark.

MILBURN, J. B.

He bears the colors, and truly, there was never a more faithful sergeant.

MOORE, J. I.

The little Lieut. Many a maiden has cast her eyes toward him.

MITCHELL, E. E.

Little, but all there.

MCCARTNEY, N. A. (Mike)

He is not found wanting when he is needed.

MORTON, RUTH

"The virtue of woman is based upon modesty, education and refinement."

OVERTON, MINNIE

"Reason's whole pleasure, all the joys of sense, Lie in three words, health, peace and competence."

OATES, F. B.

His greatest ambition is to be a professor.

POLK, MARY

"Tis well to be merry and wise,
'Tis well to be honest and true,
And pleasant, too, to think on."

PAPE, F. D.

Was never seen without a co-ed. He engineered the Engineers' representation in The Razorback.

PALMER, R. C.

A man with a judgment all his own.

QUAILE, BEATRIX

"I am the very pink of propriety."

RAWLINGS, A. J.

He won his fame in the Fayetteville High School and Gray Hall.

SAILOR, V. L.

The jolliest when jolly, the "seriest" when serious, so is this "Sailor" boy. Also ye editor.

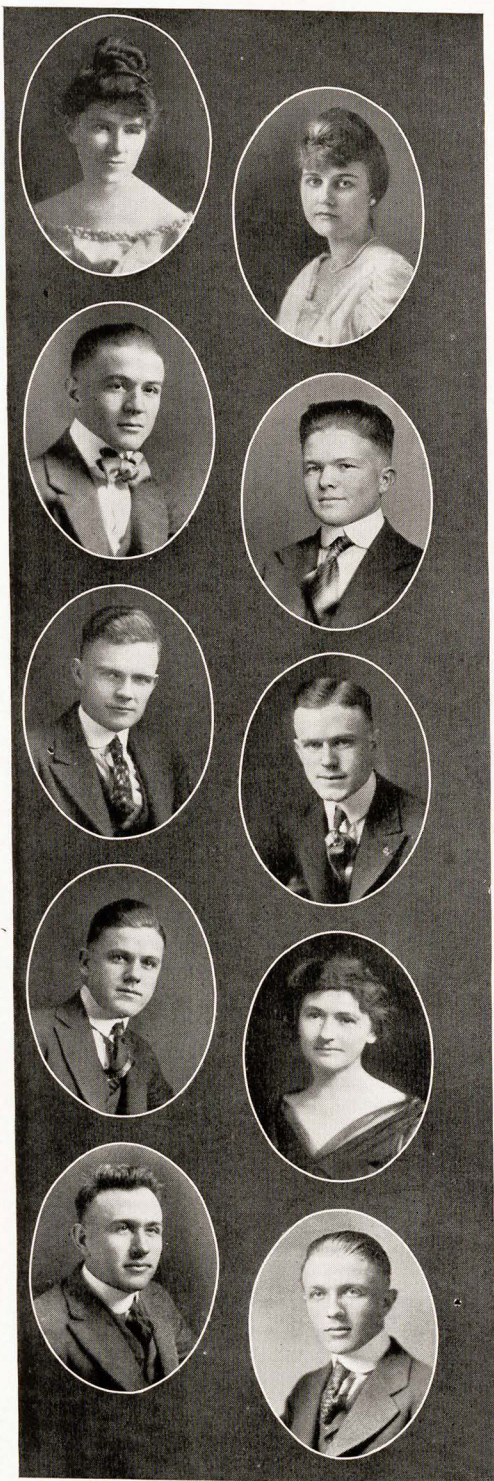

SCURLOCK, STELLA

"Her air, her manners, all who saw admired, courteous, though coy, and gentle though retired." One of the mainstays of the junior class.

SCARLET, W. C.

Not as mature as his name might indicate.

SEWARD, MARGUERITE

SIMCO, ALLIE

"She is pretty to walk with, Sweet to talk with."

SIMS, C. D. (Babe)

He drills when he is there. The good-looking little man.

SMITH, CARR (Old Man)

The little man with the rosy cheeks. He bugles the soldiers home.

STEVENSON, J. E. (Steve)

The high esteem in which he is held may be judged from the fact that he is junior class president. The first agri to be class president.

STUART, J. E. (Jimmie)

The one who thought the junior men should carry canes in order to compete with the seniors.

STUART, G. B.

He is quiet and retired and is well-liked by the ladies.

STONE, HILDA

"I have immortal longings in me." A great exponent of "Juliet."

THOMPSON, O. C. (Fatty)

True worth, not pretense wins out.

TAYLOR, C. E. (Mayor)

He is one of those who are born great.

TRIMBLE, J. W. (Jimmie)

The Weekly (weakly) man. He is very deliberate and almost as slow, but he never makes a mistake.

WALKUP, R. W. (Bob)

As his name implies, he walks up the hill every night.

WARNER, W. P. (Pres)

The best course I have is campustry.

WHITE, EDDIE

"I love tranquil solitude,
And such society
As is quiet, wise and good."

Do not let her name deceive you.

WILLEY, GEORGE

The master of ceremonies at the freshman reception.

WILKINSON, MARGARET

"She is the very pine-apple of politeness."

WILLIS, ROBERT B.

A wise man is the one who seeketh after matrimony while he is yet good looking.

WILSON, A. L. (Woodrow)

The only grand opera singer who furnishes his music free of charge.

WOODY, SUE

"Words sweet as honey from her lips distil."

EICHELBERGER, O. H.

The last junior to have his picture made for The Razorback and also the one with the most complicated name.

19  16

J. W. TRIMBLE—"Well I declare, fellows! The longer I live the older I get."

BUCHANAN, HENRIETTA—"As full of fun, of frolic, as any I have seen."

CAMPBELL, KATE—"Simplicity and truth swell in her breast"

CARROLL, J. J.—Talks less, does more. Believes in freshmen knowing their places.

CALLAHAN, JEAN—"To all she is polite without parade."

CASEY, J. E.—Build upon a rock if you want a sound foundation.

CHURCH, M. A.—No, he is not a master of arts; those are only his initials.

COFFIELD, H. A.—The leader of the Gray Hall gang.

CHERRY, ROBERT—He eats math three times a day and enjoys it.

CHERRY, R. L.—The Chemistry shark.

COOK, EDWINA—"Why all this toil for triumph of an hour?"

CLARDY, R. K.—Caruso's half-brother. No one knows what the other half is.

DOUTHIT, JESSE—The Soph with the perpetual grin.

DOWELL, GLADYS

"Come and trip it as you go,
On the light fantastic toe."

FAISST, HERBERT—"Hoch der Kaiser!"
Fireman on the Dormitory Steam Roller.

FOX, LEORA—"She knows whatever is to be known."

FISH, R. J.—And he could sit by a stream all day and never get a nibble.

GIBSON, T. A.—"And they spake of him, saying: 'Lo, he is a boob'."

GOODE, FANNIE BELLE—"Study is a dreary thing. I would know the remedy."

GOLD, MARJORIE—"Calm and serene, passive as a silent pool."

GORDON, RUTH—"Tis well to be merry and wise."

GRABIEL, RUTH—"What I have learned, I have forgotten; what I know I have guessed."

pleasantness."

HARRIS, R. D.—"What cute freckles!" the girls all say.

HAMBY, W. B.—The star orator of Hill
Hall.

HEMPHILL, MARY—"Tis only lovely thoughts can make a lovely face."

HENDERSON, C. A.—Contentment is written all over his face.

HAMMETT, R. L.—"And even in his dreams she haunts him."

HON, MILDRED—"Ah! that this too, too solid flesh would melt, thaw and resolve itself into dew."

HOWELL, RUTH—"Labor is itself a pleasure."

HOLLABAUGH, GLADYS—"Ah, what may a girl within her hide, though angel on the outside."

SMITH, NORMAN—A common name but an uncommon kid.

IRBY, GUY—The dignity of his bearing is easily recognizable.

JOHNSTON, J. A.—"I am Lieutenant Boschen's double, d—n it!"

JORDAN, GRACE—When a child she fell out of the window and came down plump.

JORDAN, KARA—"Of study took the most heed and care."

KING, ANN—"She is the girl we all admire, For lofty ambitions we find none higher."

KLAUSMEIER, RUTH—"The height of my ambition is only to find my place."

LANIER, JOHN—A modest man, a truly darling boy.

LEITZELL, VELMA—"Anything for a quiet life."

FORGY, G. H.—The Soph with the political future.

LOCKHARTE, JANE DOROTHE ISABEL—"Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's tablets, nor her ink, nor her pens—just take 'em."

LEACH, L. O.—Solid as a brick wall, and admired by all. Has been to Kansas.

MCDONALD, DOROTHY—"Popular with both boys and girls."

MCDONALD, C. P.—"Who am I that I should do this?"

MCATEER, J. T.—"Hey, John, here's a freshman needs a strapping."

MASSEY, BEAL—The memory lingers.

MCILROY, MERTYE—"A little learning is a dangerous thing."

MEADOWS, C. T.—The star member of the Gray Hall Uplift Society.

MIDDLEBROOKS, PEARL—"Excellence is the reward of labor."

MELTON, JOE—A star in Economics and Dr. Waterman's pet.

MILBURN, BRYAN—The man with the strong rich voice who made it hot for Oklahoma.

MONCRIEF, P. D.—The man responsible for all these knocks, but big enough to defend himself.

MITCHELL, W. M.—A sophomore at the first pop. Level-headed and well-liked.

MITCHELL, J. E.—There are just too many Mitchells in school.

MORGAN, R. E.—Dealer in belts.

NELSON, W. E.—Innocence is portrayed in every feature.

NORWOOD, ELLEN—"She attracts me daily with her gentle virtues, so soft and beautiful and heavenly."

OVERSTREET, ELIZABETH—"And that sweet dignity all who saw admired."

PENDLETON, H. F.—Has many times been mistaken for a senior.

PERKINS, H. E.—"When I ope my lips all dogs bark."

PEDEN, ORCHID—The prim little girl who doesn't like to smile. Speaks to the boys semi-annually.

RAMSEY, ADELE—"I chatter, chatter as I go, to one and then another. Some talk fast and some talk slow, but I talk on forever."

RAINWATER, SLOAN—"I can do it if it can be 'did'."

REEVES, RUTH—"Greatness does not consist of much talking."

RUSSELL, NONA—One of the few lucky ones of our number, very studious.

REICHART, CHRIS—The Razorbacks' hefty center.

SAILOR, LELA—"Her heart and hand both open and free, for what she has she gives."

SANFORD, BESS—"She says little but knows much."

SCOTT, LOUISE—"Of rather short duration, but an interesting specimen."

SHIFFLETT, J. J.—A man of much experience.

SHADRACH, W. S.—A very fast man—in football.

SHINN, JARVIS—He never says too much.

SIMMS, LUCIE—"Why should I blush to own I love."

SMITH, MAY—"My words are half in earnest, half in jest."

SOUR, S. S.—“Ich weisz nicht.”

SULLIVAN, HARRY—That mild, meek blond with the prize-fighter's name.

TORRENCE, JULIA—“A diamond in the ring of acquaintance.”

TARVER, V. X.—A draftsman from Star City.

UZZELLE, JACK—He is perfectly harmless.

VON JAGERSFELD, EVELYN—“Judge her not ill, for you will be mistaken.”

VINEYARD, MARION—“She is of so free, so kind, so apt, so blessed a disposition.”

VINEYARD, MITTIE—“Draw aside the drapery of gloom and let the sunshine chase the clouds away.”

VOLENTINE, OPIE—“What is life without a fair companion?”

WACHTER, VIRGINIA—“Be ashamed to catch yourself idle.”

WHITE, CARITA—“To keep my health! to do my work! to live! That'll all I ask.”

WOOLF, CORA—Very meek and gentle. Although she is a wolf there is no danger.

McDANIEL, V. B.—The ceaseless chatter of the harmless. An admirer of blond(s).

EICHELBERGER, M. H.—The short end of the military department.

ZOLL, A. A.—He is “there” on the gridiron, in politiquess and any place you put him.

CHRISTOPHER, F.—Star half-back of the reserves.

MULLINS, W. E. (Tubby)—Yes, he is a sophomore, all right. He has said so all the year.

THE END.

6. Dance for benefit of Athletics; Paul Jones represents Senior class.
7. Dr. Smith leaves for "Chicargo"!!!
8. Tacky Party by Medical Dames; three Seniors attend.
9. General feeling of uneasiness in regard to approaching exams.
10. Dr. Rhinehart informs Freshmen, again, that "It has got to be got and that they have got to get it."
11. Henderson attends a lecture.
12. Dr. Brooks puts the Juniors through the Binet-Simons test; all fail.
13. Several students reported to have broken their resolutions of the 3rd.
15. Miss Lee inquired of Mumey if he had any bath towels for his laundry.
Mumey replied: "I don't use 'em."
18. Dr. Shipp: "Cullens, where is the ligament of Treit?"
Cullens: "Just beneath Pouparts ligament."
Dr. Shipp: "You missed it only about two feet."
20. Steel is seen hanging around cigar stand in State Bank Building.
22. Washington's Birthday; everybody takes a breathing spell.
24. Dr. Bond: "Mrs. Armstrong, how about that Gynecological joke you were going to tell me?"
Mrs. Armstrong: "I can't tell you before the class."
Dr. Bond: "If it is too strong for the class, it is too strong for me."
28. Dr. Witt inquires for the eleventieth time of the Junior class, "if any member of the class owns a Hare, and if so, is it read?" He refers Washington to the left hand page for certain information.
29. A Senior answers a question at Dr. Witt's quiz.

MARCH.

1. Windy; Cullens has company.
4. Where will "watchful waiting" be one year from this date? Dr. Witt says that it's a doctor's job.
8. Hornsby and Stringfield not seen on Main Street; their wives are in town.
20. Mid-term Exams.

O thou, fearing exams!
Arise and consider!
Thy book—study it!
Thy knowledge—increase it!
Thy idleness—stop it!
For examinations cometh full soon!
Yea, by the moon!
By the night when it retreateth!
By the morn when it brighteneth!
And exams are most greivous woes,
Fraught with danger to man,
To him among you who desireth to press forward, or remain behind.
And if thou studieth, thou shalt be rewarded,
And if thou dalliest, thou shalt fail.
Yea! And would ye know it with the knowledge of certainty!
—Stolen.

25. Terrible! Some flunked!

APRIL.

1. Who's a fool?
10. Digging for finals.
15. Too much to do to think of jokes.

DASHIELL, Wm. A., XXX

Bentley Dibrell Med. Soc.

New York City.

Vice-President of Class.

"Love me and get next to the Faculty."

Though what he learns he speaks, and may advance some general maxims, or be right by chance.

MOBLEY, A. L., XXX

Bentley Dibrell Med. Soc.

Blue Mountain, Arkansas.

"Be good to B. H. and I will be your friend."

He knows no beverages but the flowing stream.

JONES, PAUL, XXX

Bentley Dibrell Med. Soc.

Mound Valley, Kansas.

"Dr. Snodgrass's La Grippe treatment can't be beat, try it."

A man of great defense.

STEELE, R. W., ΦX

Bentley Dibrell Med. Soc.

Gentry, Arkansas.

"I knew as much about it as you but I just couldn't tell it."

His words speak stronger than his actions, but have little meaning."

HORNSBY, W. W., XXX

Bentley Dibrell Med. Soc.

Barber, Arkansas.

"I know it's that way; I've seen 5000 cases."

It is his purpose that makes strong his vow.

BLOCKER, H. B., XXX

Bentley Dibrell Med. Soc.

DeKalb, Texas.

"Let us sing, fellers, (Somebody Stole My Old Coon Dog)"

Courage from the deeps of His knowledge springs.

MOBLEY, H. E., XXX

Blue Mountain, Arkansas.

President of Class.

"Come on boys, before Judge gets somebody else."

He can repair detriment
If such it be, good politician.

ROSE, W. D., XXX

Bentley Dibrell Med. Soc.

Little Rock, Arkansas.

"We'll ask the widder."

His books are the eloquence
And dumb presages of his speaking breast.

WELLS, J. B., XXX

Bentley Dibrell Med. Soc.

Natchez, Mississippi.

"Don't let me miss seeing any of the pirates."

The malignancy of his fate
Might perhaps distemper yours.

Magnolia, Arkansas.

"Come on, who has any pennies. Small matter."

Blessed is he
Among the women.

ARMSTRONG, M. C.

Bentley Dibrell Med. Soc.

Little Rock, Arkansas.

"Oh, well, have your way, I will have mine."

Her heart and hand both open and both free;
For what she has she gives, what she thinks,
she shows.

STRINGFIELD, J. H., ΦΧ

Bentley Dibrell Med. Soc.

Franklinton, Louisiana.

"Well you know it's just like this."

He makes no noise therefore Nothing can be said of him.

MUMEY, NOLIE, ΧΖΧ

Bentley Dibrell Med. Soc.

Jenny Lind, Arkansas.

Secretary-Treasurer of Class.

"Come on Puss, this go get something to eat."

But let his due feet never fail
To walk the studious Cloister's pale.

SNOOKIE, friend and mascot of the Senior Class.

Senior Class Poem

In the evening twilight,
After the sun has passed from view;
The dreary hours of night
Come under a canopy of blue.

And the light of day is draped,
With the mourning veil of the night;
The faithful stars are shining,
After the moon has passed from sight.

And the noise of life has ceased
For a journey of peaceful rest,
All sleeping, save one who rides
Through the night like some belated guest.

The owl cries in his shrill tones,
Of whom that passing stranger he,
Answered by echoing hoofs
That carry sorrow, joy and glee.

Onward he rides through the night
And stillness of that silent gloom,
As faithful to suffering humanity
As stars are to the waning moon.

Long after the scorching days,
Summer in furs of winter clad;
He goes to visit the sick,
Administering kindness to the sad.

L'ENVOI.

The Doctor should forever be,
The greatest, noblest of all men;
For through him we are helped in
The world and cared for to the end.

—NOLIE MUMEY.

Senior Class History

Just when ambition's sun has clambered almost to its zenith, and the hand of time is about to draw the curtain of our school career; we pause for a brief retrospection; to look back down the aisle of progress through which we have walked from our Freshman vicissitudes up to our long coveted position as Seniors.

We do not know whether to attribute our thirst for a knowledge of scientific medicine as an instrument with which we might alleviate the suffering of mankind, and respond to humanity's cry for help, to phylogenesis or to ontogenesis, but that thirst, of whatever origin, brought seventeen of us to the fountain head of learning for the School Year of 1912 and 1913; and though we have lost some of our original number, we have gained one for each one lost so that now our number is seventeen.

Our class has ever been a quiet, steady, studious and self-reliant class, neither asking the class ahead as a guide nor accepting the class below as a goad.

We have met obstacles and difficulties as they arose, with quiet determination, and shoulder to shoulder have overcome them.

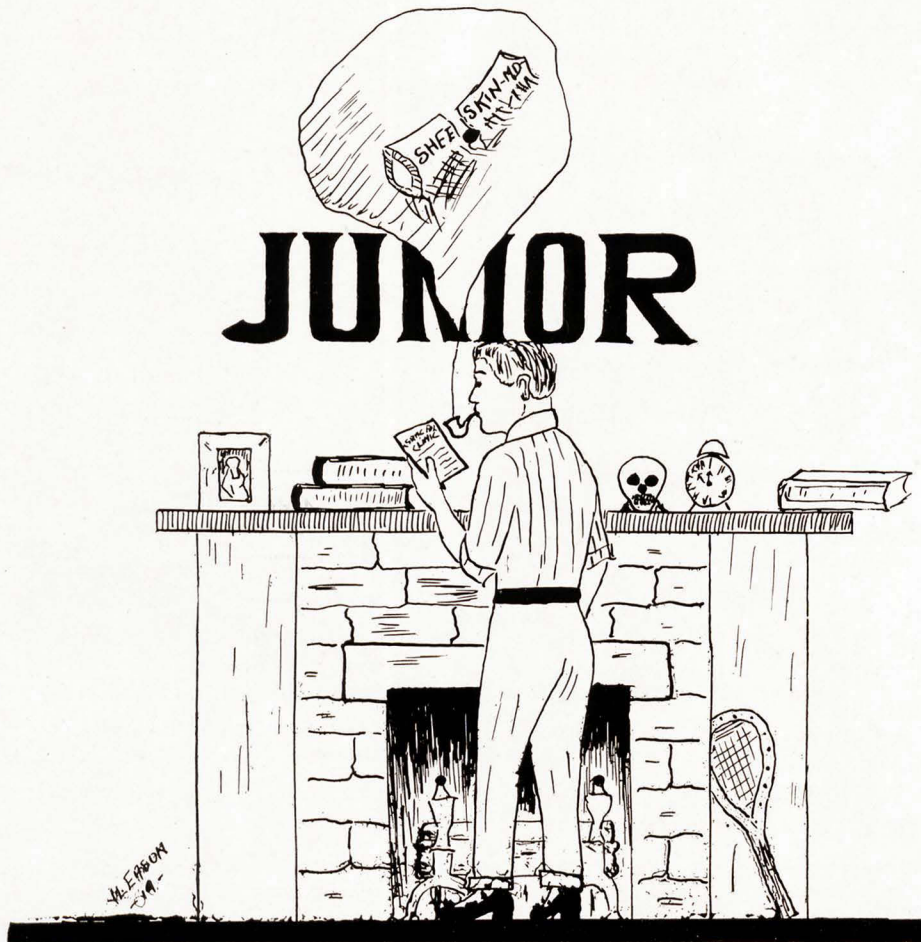

We have had the best that the untiring efforts of our able Dean and instructors could give us, and for each of them we entertain the highest degree of love and respect.

Our class officers are fair and broad and ever for the best interests of the class. We have men in our class than whom there can be none more loyal hearted and lovable. And now, believing in the motto of our adoption, that we should look upward and not downward, forward and not backward, we close our retrospection and approach the end; not with fear and trembling, nor yet with over-confidence, but with a full knowledge that we have striven conscientiously, and believing implicitly that virtue is not its sole reward.

—JOHN B. WELLS.

ROYAL CALCOTE.....President.
 E. J. HORNER.....Vice-President.
 J. A. KING.....Secretary-Treasurer.

Introducing Ourselves

When the Sophomore Class made its auspicious advent into the portals of the Medical Department of the University of Arkansas, there was a certain amount of flurry on the part of the faculty, but not an amount sufficient to placate the desires of this most illustrious class. Without much ado we accepted each day's events in the hope that the Highbrow professors would eventually sit up in awe and reverence when any of us spoke.

We allowed a year to pass, waiting for the acknowledgment of the respect due us, and when it failed to appear, we decided to adopt rather unusual methods "next year". This we have done, and as a result, have commanded the respect of the whole school. We have frequently held "faculty meetings", the most notable of which resulted in our protest against taking a new course. We might have taken the course in toxicology, however, had we anticipated the opportunities for Keck to pass a part of the time away arguing for some of his original theories.

In every kind of school spirit we have manifested considerable enthusiasm; our men have furnished the majority of the football team; our general average in grades is said to be the highest of any class. Our best efforts are given whole-heartedly to every move for the good of the school, and our men are equally divided between the fraternities, there being only one absolute neutral.

We contemplate a most interesting Junior year and we are truly thankful for the hope of relief from tiresome laboratory work and will enter next year with the firm determination to meet every professor or know the reason why he is absent.

Look us over.

ROYAL CALCOTE, "Scillie",

Ruston, La.

Winner of Physiology Prize; Phi Chi; Football.

GEORGE AUGUSTUS HAYS, "Dean",

Little Rock.

Razorback Representative; Athletic Manager, 1916-'17; Kappa Sigma.

A man of many accomplishments and admits he's good.

OTTIS GRADY HIRST, "Dad Baum",

Prescott.

Chi Zeta Chi.

His spats brand him as the Beau Brummel of the class; has nearly learned to dance.

ERNEST JUSTIN HORNER, "Jack",

Yellville.

Phi Chi; Ex-President of Dancing Club and Orator of Edmund (Okla.) Normal.

HERBERT FAY HEMPSTEAD JONES, "Doc",

Paris.

Chi Zeta Chi.

Has the most extensive practice of any of us in spite of his rotten wit.

HENRY MANFORD KECK, L. I., A. B.,

"Harry",

Paris.

Phi Chi; Eligibility Committee; Football.

As hair decreases intellect increases—vice versa, inversely, et al.

JESSE ARTHUR KING, "Croesus",

Jena, La.

Chi Zeta Chi.

Has accumulated Five Hundred Dollars. We all know it because we have seen it.

CHARLES PUSEY MCCracken, "Mac",

Vine Grove, Ky.

Phi Chi; Football.

Between his sawdust and his "Simmons" interests, he leads a very busy life.

JASPER EUGENE NEIGHBORS, A. B., "Friday",
Little Rock.

Phi Chi.
Assistant in Anatomy. Believes in the privilege of speech, especially in regard to professors.

FRANK ANDERSON NORWOOD, "Fanny",
Little Rock.

Phi Chi; Football.
No statements damaging to himself will he ever make. Walker's only rival.

RASTUS RAY ORRILL, "Little-un",
Mt. Pleasant, Texas.

Assistant Manager of Athletics, 1916-'17; Phi Chi.
Is ever in diligent search of 5cc of "unk".

WILLIAM EDWARD GRAY, "Grabby Bill",
Little Rock.

Politician and lobbyist. We all wear cotton in our ears when he is around. Chi Zeta Chi.

RALPH A. LAW, "Kid",
New York City.

Lover of a practical joke. Gets blamed for all he does,—and then some. Diploma in camp dish-washing. Phi Chi. Razorback Representative.

DAN STAPLES, "Boy Scout",
Little Rock.

Partial to integument on the upper lip, but alas! it turns red. A good old scout, but a pretty poor cook. Phi Chi.

VAL L. EASON, "Hoswald the Cookee", Argenta.

If he could only put his studying in on cartoons, he would be happy. Thinks he can sing, but we don't. Phi Chi.

JACK EDWARDS, "Slippery",

JAMES DE KALB STEELE, '16,

Gentry, Ark.

Gentry High School.

Jim's sporting proclivities were awakened somewhat late in life, but his conduct now shows him to be a firm believer in the old adage—"Better late than never".

ISAAC JEFFREY, '16,

Mount Olive, Ark.

Stone County Academy.

Ike's good nature prizes the virtues that appear in men, and looks not on their evils.

HUBERT RAY BLANKENSHIP, '16,

Melbourne, Ark.

Rayship gave up the strenuous life of a pedagogue to take up one of the world's "snaps", namely, "pill rolling". Suffering humanity will gain very much on account of this change.

HUBERT HALL, '16,

Calico Rock, Ark.

Salem High School.

Associate Editor of the Medical Razorback. Uncle Peter knows the synonyms of every drug plant in existence. Synonymism, however, is not his only accomplishment. As a philosopher he easily rivals John Hall, "the sage of the Ozarks".

J. HAMILTON GOODGAME, '16,

Monroe, La.

Henderson-Brown College.

J. Ham is a consistent, careful worker, but the "Komical Kuss" thinks 8 o'clock is too early for lecture.

ALBERT H. FENDLEY, '17,

Little Rock, Ark.

Little Rock High School.

"Quality" and not "quantity" is what really counts as is evidenced by this modest fellow.

Athletics in the University of Arkansas Medical Department was merely an experiment this year. It was doubtful at first whether enough enthusiasm could be instilled into the Faculty to allow us to make a start even, but what we lacked in the Faculty was more than supplied by the students. After a few weeks of intense excitement on the part of the students, a mass meeting was called and an athletic association was formed, the purpose of which was to put athletics upon a permanent basis. By this time we had brought the doubtful one on the faculty over to our side and the financing of the association took on a brighter aspect. Considering the fact that we were so late getting started, we believe that we have at least shown signs of life.

At any rate, we have succeeded in perfecting an association which will make it possible for us to start at the very beginning of the season next year and we hope to put out a team which will bring back the scalps of our enemies. We do not anticipate any trouble whatever about our finances next year as a $5.00 fee will be added to the matriculation and we have no doubt that the faculty will not only be willing to help us but will over-run us in their desire to add their names to our list.

The Doctor's Heaven

I dreamed that I was talking
With a doctor, old and gray,
Who told me of a dream he had,
I think 'twas New Year's Day.

While snoozing in his office,
The vision came to view,
For he saw an angel enter,
Dressed in garments white and new.

Said the angel, "I'm from heaven,
And Peter sent me down
To bring you up to glory,
And give you a golden crown.

"You've been a friend to every one,
And worked both night and day;
You've doctored many thousands,
And from few received your pay.

"So we want you up in glory,
For you have labored hard;
And the good Lord is preparing
Your eternal just reward."

Then the angel and the doctor
Started up to glory's gate,
But when passing close to Hades,
The angel whispered "Wait,

"I've a place I want to show you,
It's the hottest place in hell,
Where the ones who never paid you,
In torment must always dwell."

And behold, the doctor saw there
His old patients by the score;
Then grabbing up a chair and fan,
He wished for nothing more.

Just content to sit and watch them
As they sizzle, singe and burn,
And his eyes would rest on others
Whichever way they'd turn.

Said the angel, "Come on, doctor,
There the pearly gates I see."
But the doctor only murmured,
"This is heaven enough for me."

Electrical Engineering

For several years, the Electrical Engineering Department has been the largest of the engineering departments. Its men, both in the long and the short courses, have been of uniformly high quality. Its graduates have nearly always been able to secure positions as soon as they finished school. The usual practice is to do one or two years apprentice work with one of the great manufacturing or operating companies in order to gain practical experience. The curriculum of the department embraces various courses from elementary physics and theory of electricity to the advanced theory of alternating currents, transmission lines, laboratory practice, etc., with elective courses in English, modern languages, economics, etc. As much practical work as possible is done. Inspection trips to the great companies in northern states are made whenever possible. Water power surveys are made annually. Many of the students work during the summer in electrical or allied industries. Students under the direction of Professor H. A. Brown have installed a very good wireless station in the engineering hall. Messages have been received from Arlington, Va., and other points. The professors and instructors whose work is included in this department are W. N. Gladson, W. B. Stelzner, H. A. Brown, G. E. Ripley (Physics) and Bernard Brown (Physics).

The civil engineering course is the oldest of the engineering courses in the University and has graduated more students than any other. Since 1893, Professor J. J. Knoch has been at the head of the department. Since he took charge, over one hundred men have graduated from the department. Many of these now hold responsible and high-salaried positions over the country. The courses now offered in the department are surveying, railroad engineering, bridge and steel construction, drainage engineering, highway engineering and reinforced concrete and masonry construction. Other minor courses are embraced in several of these. The department lays stress on practical work. Much surveying and drafting work is done, actual designs of bridges, constructions, etc., being made. Each year a week is spent in camp, actual work in surveying and railroad location being done. The other professors in this department are V. P. Knott and S. N. Whitman.

Mechanical Engineering

The mechanical engineering department is smaller than the department of electrical or civil engineering, but has turned out many graduates of very high quality. Probably the highest salaried engineering graduates of the U. of A. took the M. E. course here. One now receives twelve thousand dollars per year. Of all the graduates of this department whose addresses are known, there are none who are not classed as successful men. The courses offered in this department include pattern, foundry and machine shop practice, heat engines, power plant practice and theory, machine design, material testing, and others that are necessary for the demands of mechanical engineering today. The head of the department, Professor B. N. Wilson, is a man of wide experience. He is widely known as an expert in his field. The assistant professors in this department are Brainerd Mitchell, H. W. Dean and F. A. Humphreys.

The chemical engineering course in the University of Arkansas has not as many students as the other engineering courses, but is nevertheless one of the most thorough courses offered. Seventy-two hours are required for graduation, as compared with sixty-seven in the other departments. The regular chemical engineering course embraces a thorough training in chemistry and extensive courses in mechanical and electrical engineering. The graduates are trained for analytical work, physical and industrial chemistry and other occupations.

The Engineering Department in the University of Arkansas

Engineering in the University of Arkansas is pursued in five different branches—civil, electrical, mechanical, chemical and mining. The civil engineering was the first of the engineering courses to be given in the University, the history of this department dating from 1878. Mining engineering was first offered in 1880, mechanical engineering in 1885, electrical engineering in 1891 and chemical engineering in 1894. The total enrollment in all the engineering departments this year is 157. The work of each of the departments is described in more detail in another section.

For the past several years, Dr. W. N. Gladson has been dean of the College of Engineering. Under his efficient administration, the department has prospered and is today reckoned among the best of the engineering colleges in the country. The work of each department in the college has been seriously hampered in the last few years by lack of funds. In spite of this handicap, however, the various courses in the engineering departments have been taught in the best possible manner. The result is that U. of A. engineering graduates are able to hold their own with those of the large technical schools in the north and east. This year there are eighteen men in the senior classes of the three main departments.

ENGINEERING SOCIETIES. For several years the A. I. E. E. and A. S. M. E. have been operating independently in this school, but this year it was decided to join forces for mutual benefit. Since then, the programs of the two societies have been held in common, members from both societies appearing on them. This move has served not only to add interest to the programs of each society by introducing material new to the members, but has also brought strongly before the members of each the close relation between their fields of work. The meetings of the societies this year have been of unusual interest. Motion pictures from the manufacturing companies have been presented at many of the meetings, and in other ways, the programs have been superior to those of past years. The officers of the local A. I. E. E. are Phil Rice, President; L. E. Oneal, Vice-President, and Fred Ellington, secretary-treasurer. W. G. Horton is president of the A. S. M. E. and J. C. Moody is vice-president. Three of the members of the local branch of the A. I. E. E. have student memberships in the national organization. These are P. X. Rice, M. B. Coker and G. C. Wells.

The Chemical Engineering Society was formed at this school during the fall of 1915. All of the chemical engineers in the school are members. At the first meeting, W. D. Merrill was elected president. While young among the other societies, this society means to make itself felt in engineering circles.

ENGINEER'S DAY. The engineers in the U. of A. are well organized. For the past several years, the annual Engineer's Day has been held on St. Patrick's Day. The whole day is given over to various activities of the engineers. This year the program was a grand parade over town, engineering ceremonies in front of University Hall, including the kissing of the Blarney Stone by the seniors and their initiation into the Order of The Knights of St. Patrick; exhibits all the afternoon and a dance and entertainment at night. The University Weekly, under a special staff of engineers, issued an engineer's edition. The day was a great advertisement for the U. of A. engineering departments.

Agriculture Day

THE DAY BEFORE THANKSGIVING.

The roosters crowed early in the morning on November 24, but not too early for the Agri students, for they were up and doing about, gathering up the agricultural products for the different displays. Many of the other students in the Dormitory, on first awakening, thought they were home once more as they caught the fragrance of the new hay and heard the cackle of the chickens and other characteristic sounds from the barnyard.

The spirit of jolliness and contentment prevailed, and the students, while doing their work, whistled and sang parts of the more modern ditties, as older farmers pick at Coming Through the Rye and other stone age harmonies.

This agriculture day had two distinct features; a fair made up from the different departments, home economics, entomology, agronomy, horticulture, veterinary science, plant pathology, bacteriology, agricultural chemistry, extension and dairying; and the farmers' hop that night.

On the campus of the dairy building was a live-stock display, where the judging contest occurred, the girls judging a class of bovines and one of the squealers. From here all adjourned to the dairy-barn where the milking contest was conducted, each contestant being allotted two minutes in which to milk, after which time the milk was weighed, the winner milking three pounds in the specified time. More enthusiasm was manifested in the milking contest as the girls proved themselves more efficient at milking than at stock-judging.

The colleagues of the agri students,—the home economics girls,—had splendid exhibits. The girls attired in white, with caps to match, served coffee and "agri specials", which were cakes originated especially for this occasion. They gave with these refreshments souvenirs which contained the recipe for these cakes. During the noon-hour these same girls served a barbecue luncheon to about three hundred people.

The students from the other colleges, and town visitors were conducted to the various exhibits throughout the day. The Armory in the meantime was being dolled up in true country style. All the stiff backed seats were taken out and fresh bailed hay was put in their places. The large columns were completely hidden by fodder representing shocks, diffused here and there with pumpkins. In the center of the dance floor was an old rusty corn crib, capped with hay and fodder. Corn of different colors and grasses of all varieties were strung up around the walls and between the columns.

The windows and corners of the hall were fittingly decorated with agricultural products, including calves and chickens. Every one came attired in true country style, the boys wearing overalls and jumpers, and the girls gay in calico aprons with sun-bonnets over their curls and pig-tails. The dance which was the climax of the history-making day for the agris, ended too soon for everyone.

THE CORPS OF CADETS

INSPECTOR'S REPORT - COLLEGE INSPECTION.

INSTITUTION.

University of Arkansas.

REPORT OF AN INSPECTION OF THE MILITARY DEPARTMENT OF

At (City) Fayetteville (County) Washington (State) Arkansas

Made April 20, 1915 By Major Andrew Moses, General Staff, U. S. Army.

1. Is this institution essentially military, or is the military instruction merely a single feature? Single feature.
2. What degree of importance is attached to the military instruction by the faculty? By the President, a great degree; by the faculty generally a moderate degree.
3. Is any change in the War Department classification desirable? No.
4. Are the students required to be continuously in uniform, and do they lead, as far as the surrounding conditions can reasonably be expected to permit, a military life? No.
5. To what degree is a military spirit developed and nurtured? Moderate.
6. With what degree of zeal is military duty performed? Moderate.
7. What was the general appearance of the cadets at inspection? Excellent.
8. Is the efficiency in infantry instruction and training sufficiently advanced to warrant devoting time to instruction in artillery and other branches? Yes, but do not recommend it.
9. Is the military instruction of such an extent and thoroughness as to qualify the average graduate for a commission as a lieutenant of volunteers? No. For the best graduates yes. I believe the cadet officers are qualified.
10. General Remarks.

I was courteously received by the President, Mr. John C. Futrell, and discussed with him at length the conditions of the Military Department. President Futrell expressed himself as being in complete accord with the ideas of the War Department in regard to the Military Department, which he considers of the greatest value and importance.

Lieutenant Fred. W. Boschen, 17th Infantry, U. S. Army, has worked earnestly to bring the Corps of Cadets to a high plane of efficiency, and the result obtained in the instruction of the Corps is very gratifying.

The inspection consisted of battalion review and inspection, battalion drill, and company drill in close and extended order. The battalion presented an excellent appearance; the uniforms are neat and well fitting; arms and equipment in excellent condition. Due to rain, it was not practicable to have a field problem that has been scheduled, but the Corps has had similar problems and were reported as taking great interest in them. The ceremony and drills were well executed, and show careful training. All exercises were under charge of the cadet officers, who are a well appearing, manly and intelligent lot of young men. Through the efforts of Lieutenant Boschen, a gallery practice range has been installed in the Armory and excellent results have been obtained. The work accomplished during this session is regarded as an advance over previous years. The Corps of Cadets is a credit to the State.

Examination Questions:

Q. Define "point of rest".

Answer of Lieut. Mutt Higgs—"Point at which battalion rests."

Q. Define interval and distance.

Answer of Lieutenant-Captain-Colonel-Major-General-PRIVATE Ikey Crane—"Interval is distance divided by men. Distance is interval divided by men."

Lieut. Boschen to Private Jim Stuart—"Take Spike out for a walk."

Private Jim—"Yes, sir; and I will be back in a few minutes to shine your shoes, sir."

Maid Burnelle Bradley to Brainy Jack Uzzelle—"Where are those cute little frogs that were on your blouse last year?"

Jack—"Arms (rifles) are more attractive than drum sticks."

Lieut. Boschen to Sgt. Bill Brewster—"Why were you late to drill this morning?"

Brewster—"Prof. Humphreys had me locked up in the shops all night, sir."

Captain Allen to Company "D".—"Dress up!"

Sgt. Lawson—"Where?"

Washington County farmer watching parade—"That air band would be a good un if hits drum major warn't so stuck up and that air bass drummer didn't look so slippery and slimey."

At Officers Club, Adj. Campbell to chair—"Major Parsons, I move that each officer be assessed $2.00 to buy badges for the Sponsors and Maids, and that Lieut. Bonehead Craig be assessed $4.00 for being a bigamist." Motion carried.

Lieut. Ray Martin—"Did you see the battalion parade this morning?"

Maid Irene Knerr—"Yes, and I heard Corporal Parsons give the command 'Dropping Arms'."

Capt. Winn—"Corporal, suppose you were approaching the main building with your squad and you were suddenly fired upon, what would you do?"

Corporal—"I would give the command, 'To the rear, double time, march!'"

Captain Brown on coming to a narrow gate and not knowing what formation to order to get his company through, gave the following command: "This company is dismissed. You will fall in on the other side of the fence in one minute."

OBITUARY.

And so beside the Silent Sea
I wait the muffled oar;
No harm from Him can come to me
On ocean or on shore.

I know not where His islands lift
Their fronded palms in air;
I only know I cannot drift
Beyond His love and care.

TO JAMES W. CORZINE.

From happy homes and promises of youth
You vanished, and the long eternity
Now claims you for its own. Your soul can see
While we grope darkly and with touch uncouth,
Unable to discern the form of truth,
Stand waiting for a light that is to be.
Deep in the hearts that bear your memory
And sadly think of your departed youth,
A longing burns and infinitely sweet,
Its pain shall linger through our life's rough way.
And in that moment when the unfettered soul
Shall freely go to its Creator's feet,
It shall find light and in the dazzling day
Rejoice to see your face there at the goal.

LINES WRITTEN ON THE DEATH OF

CHARLES GEIGER CARROLL

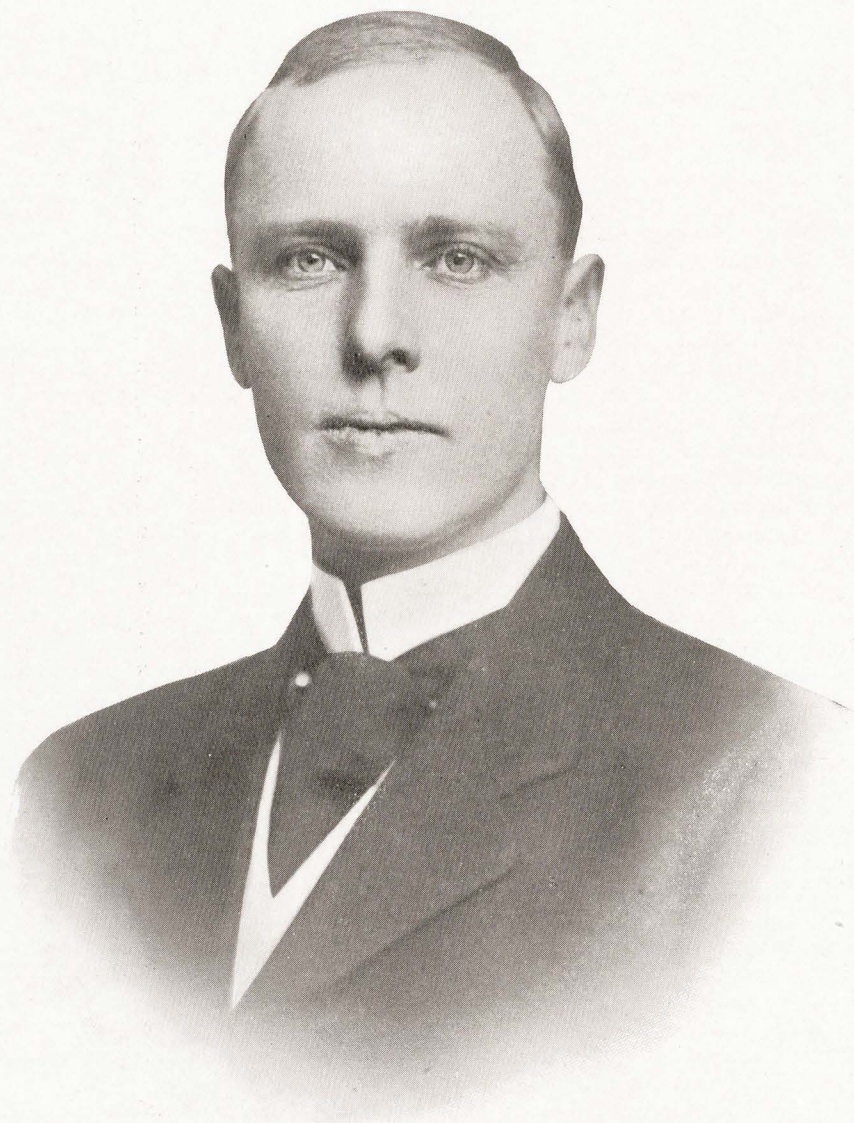

When in the cycle of Time's race Fate moves
Among us, and our kin are stricken down
In the fell clutch of Death,
We stand transfix'd in wonder at the brown,
Dull world. In awe we question if it proves That Life is Fate's fool,
Who, in the merry tinkling of his bells,
Hears not the deeper tone of knells
For those fair creatures in the earth entomb'd;
If he who in the walks of men
Shed learning's light, had been
The star of wisdom to the youth
Struggling for the heights of earth's bequest,
If he was yet the object of Fate's blundering hand,
And all our thought of truth
But vain imagining.

A kinder spirit bathes the wounds
Of our despair. Reason's comfort brings
The healing balm that "all that was, is;
All that is, shall be". The beauty of the sounds
From the music of the soul lingers
On in other songs with the spirit that was caught
From the master;
The radiance of the light from the star
That was greatest in the heavens
Widens out over space, and afar
Extends the halo of its greatness.

A sweeter spirit heals the wounds
Of our despair. Immortal love,
That which baffles all that reason sounds
In its strange and futile effort but to prove
That all is best, rests in the heart,
And the soul that was bow'd
Comes to meet the doubt that cow'd,
And with face to the East,
Stands triumphant over Death;
For the god that was Fate
Is the god that is Love,
And the angel that was Death
Rolled the stone.

—Roger Williams.

CHARLES GEIGER CARROLL
October 15, 1875—February 23, 1916.

CHARLES GEIGER CARROLL, 1875-1916.

Dr. Charles Geiger Carroll, the son of a Methodist minister of Ashland, Kentucky, was born there October 15, 1875. The family resided next in West Virginia, and then in Colorado, where, in his fifteenth year, he entered the University of Denver. He was interrupted there by the removal of his family to Texas, and for the next few years he held various teaching positions in the schools of Texas. In 1895 he entered Southwestern University, at Georgetown, Texas, from which he obtained the B. A. degree in 1896, and the M. A. degree in 1897.

From graduate student, he rose to the place of instructor in language and literature, and in 1898 was appointed assistant instructor of chemistry, which marked the beginning of his great interest in scientific work.

In 1901 he entered Johns Hopkins University and worked in chemistry and physics there one year, returning to hold the position of head of the chemistry department of Southwestern University in 1902, which he held one year, and again entered Johns Hopkins University, where he obtained the Ph. D. degree in 1904.

He came to the University in 1905, as head of the chemistry department, and his vigorous application to his duties was evidenced by the immediate response he commanded from the department. The scientific library was improved to a point of excellence and the periodical additions were the selection of his master hand.

He organized the Glee club, and remained its director the rest of his residence in Fayetteville. He was one of the most influential men on the faculty, admired and respected for his logical ideas, and clear thinking.

In 1907 he was married to Miss Ruby Rothwell of Denver, Colorado, daughter of Edwin James Rothwell, M. D. and Augusta Moore Rothwell, M. D., and their life was an ideal example of perfect love and understanding.

Keeping up all the while his versatile interests, in literature, music, and the University, he made researches which commanded international recognition, reviewed by his articles: "The Freezing Point Lowering of Aqueous Hydrogen Peroxide Solutions"; "Connection between Conductivity and Viscosity"; and "Ionic Hydration and Ionic Velocity."

The most notable of his literary work is the collection entitled "French Lyric Poets of the Post-Romantic Period", which he prepared in connection with his intimate friend, Professor A. Marinoni.

Our most elegant tribute to his memory is to strive to attain some of the excellence of his work, and our most eloquent eulogy is to enumerate the deeds that made him great. Those who knew him best, loved and admired him most.

Arkansas Debaters

J. A. WINN

GIBSON WITT,

INTER-COLLEGIATE DEBATING.

Arkansas held her annual debate with Oklahoma at Fayetteville on April 15 this year. A second debate was arranged with Texas, which was held at Austin, April 18. It has been the custom for several years for Arkansas to have three debates, but the third contest could not be arranged this year.

The question debated with both Oklahoma and Texas was: "Resolved, that there should be a material increase in the military and naval armament of the United States over that which existed August 1, 1915." Arkansas upheld the affirmative in both contests.

The Arkansas-Oklahoma debate resulted in a two to one decision for Oklahoma, and the Arkansas-Texas debate in a two to one decision for Texas. Although we lost both debates we still have the greatest confidence in our four splendid debaters who, we believe, did all that could have been done on the affirmative side of the question.

James A. Winn, one of the team to meet Texas, proved his worth last year when he and Jerry Wallace defeated the Texas team on the minimum wage question. He has excellent oratorical abilities and is a deep and ready thinker. We lose Winn this year as he gets his B. A. degree in June.

Ben B. Matthews, also a member of the team debating Texas, was an alternate on the debating team last year. He is a very fluent talker and a quick thinker. Matthews is a brilliant student and will get his B. A. degree this year after three years of college work.

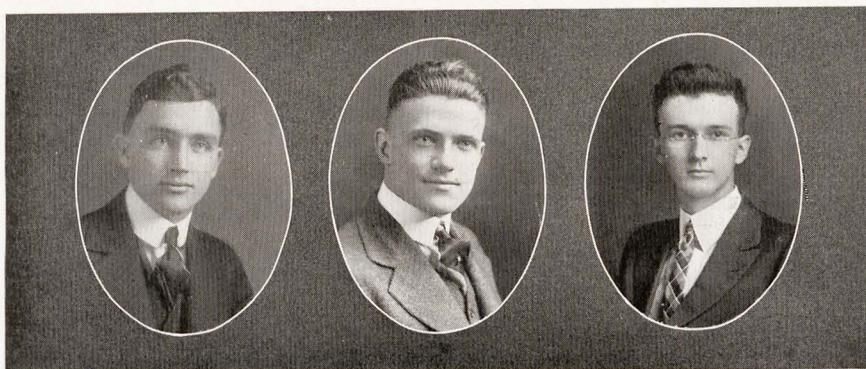

Bryan L. Milburn, a member of the team to meet Oklahoma, was an alternate on the debating team last year. Milburn, who is only a Sophomore, is already considered as one of the most effective speakers in the student body. He thinks well on his feet and never lacks expression.

Cleveland Cabler, who with Milburn met Oklahoma, is a speaker of ability and an earnest and conscientious worker. Although a Junior, he is spending his first year in the University, having come here from Henderson-Brown.

W. H. Courson and Gibson Witt were alternates. They are both fluent speakers and would probably have been the choice for a third term.

INTER-SOCIETY DEBATES.

The Inter-Society debates held between the men's literary societies, which were inaugurated last year were continued this year. The debates proved to be very successful in arousing interest in debating last year and are expected to be equally successful in the future.

A somewhat different plan was adopted this year, however, in that all three debates are to be held during one week. The first one, between the Garland and Lee societies, will take place Saturday afternoon, May 13, and the other two, between the Periclean and Lee and the Periclean and Garland, will come on the evening of the same day.

The question for all three debates will be: "Resolved, that the United States should adopt a more restrictive immigration policy."

ORATORY.

A new contest for all societies in the University was instituted this year when Professor J. R. Grant, of the Education department, offered a silver loving cup to the society whose representative should win in an oratorical contest. It is known as the Grant Oratorical Contest and promises to be very spirited this year.

Skull and Torch

Founded February 15, 1915, by the members of two other honor societies, the Skull and the Torch.

Purpose: To develop a higher efficiency in scholarship, and a more wholesome moral sentiment, through a fraternal relationship.

REQUIREMENTS FOR MEMBERSHIP

"The membership of the Skull and Torch shall be composed of students who are candidates for a B. A. degree, who shall have advanced to second-term junior standing, who shall have made an average grade of not less than G+, or 87%, upon the term examinations of all their University work, and who shall have given evidence of high moral character and influence.

"Students who have made an average of 87% on all their work in other schools equivalent to the University of Arkansas, and who shall have made an average of 87% on at least one semester of work in the University of Arkansas, shall be eligible to membership, provided they have attained second-term junior standing and are acceptable to the society."—Extracts from Constitution.

The purpose of the Student Council is to unite student sympathies and to bring about a better understanding between the students and faculty. The Council strives to bring the students' point of view before the faculty and the faculty's point of view before the student body.

It is not the purpose of this body to bring about any radical changes in University affairs, but rather to reform by a gradual process accompanied by much discussion in order not to make any false step.

The spirit of the Student Council has been fine this year, the average attendance at meetings having been about eleven. Some of the things definitely accomplished are: senior advisors for freshmen, the establishment of a $125 limit for formal functions given by student organizations, and the promise of an Easter holiday for next year.

COACH T. T. McCONNELL

19  16

W. W. McCONNELL—No, he is not the coach—nor even his brother.

Review of Football Season

The season of 1915-16 opened with rather gloomy prospects for the football team. A hard schedule lay in front of us; only four of last year's "A" men returned; the new material was quite green; the strict enforcement of the new conference rules bade fair to bar many of the best men; and there was a new coach to remodel and form the team. It is this very coach, T. T. McConnell, to whom all credit for the team's success should be ascribed. It was he that got all of the suitable material in school to report for practice and kept a squad of four teams at work all season. Through his untiring efforts a team was molded into shape in time for the first game. Hendrix was met and defeated 41 to 0, the scrubs playing most of the last half. This game showed our weaknesses which were overcome before the Ouachita game the following Saturday. The defeat of the previous year was avenged by beating Ouachita 13 to 9.

The team was driven hard the next week to round it into form for the Oklahoma A. and M. game. It got the form and we conquered the enemy to the tune of 13 to 9. It was a great and jubilant day and the result showed the effect of constant work on the part of the team, and loyal as well as faithful rooting on the part of the students. By many, this was regarded as the team's best fought game.

The next game was with St. Louis University at St. Louis which resulted in a 0 to 0 draw. Rudd and Frazier were not in the game and the officials were manifestly in favor of St. Louis. They gave every advantage to the Billikins. These things, together with over-confidence on our part, due to the trouncing we had given them the previous season, kept us from defeating them. Only the heroic work of the line kept St. Louis from crossing our goal line several times. She was held for three downs one foot from the goal.

The fifth game was at Shreveport against Louisiana State University. Bad luck—several crippled men—and over-confidence induced by our easily scoring the first touchdown, caused the first defeat of the season. Louisiana, 13; Arkansas, 7.

This defeat did not affect our standing in the race for the Southwest championship, and every energy was bent on beating Oklahoma University. Percy Hinton, Russell May and Ashton Vincenheller, former Arkansas stars, returned to help Coach McConnell for the big event. It was a week of hard work and enthusiasm for all concerned. We met them bravely but went down in just defeat by a score of 29 to 0. The first half was brilliantly played and ended with a score of 6 to 0 in Oklahoma's favor. In the second half, however, they crossed our goal three times more and kicked a field goal.

The next game was to have been played against Mississippi University at Memphis, but Mississippi canceled the game, ostensibly on account of her crippled team. She played Ouachita Thanksgiving, however, and received a severe drubbing. Had she not canceled the game there is no doubt that we would have richly avenged ourselves for past defeats.

The Rolla game, which was to have been played Thanksgiving, was cancelled two days before the date on account of the death of one of her players in an auto accident. In place of Rolla we played Oklahoma School of Mines on Thanksgiving in a veritable mud-puddle and succeeded in piling up a score on them of 46 to 0.

Taken all in all the season was a success, for we won four games, tied one, lost two, and were prominent in the race for the Southwestern championship. We scored a total of 120 points as against our opponents 60. The team proved itself supreme in the state and landed five places on the All-Arkansas eleven.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE FOR 1915.

Our next year's captain. Reichardt was the only man on the team who played every minute of the entire season. He was always reliable and his accurate passing contributed much to the good teamwork of the team.

The big left guard from Hendrix whose playing at all times was steady and was often brilliant. It was his heroic work in the St. Louis University game that prevented them from scoring. He brought credit to the school by being selected as left guard on the All-Arkansas team.

HALE, HARVEY—Left Tackle.

"Bus", the 190 pound left tackle, was the mainstay of the left side of the line. Although a first year man he showed true "Varsity" form. He was a stone-wall defense and a battering ram on offense.

Frazier—always good. One of the star products of Bezdek's championship team of '11. He showed his customary ability this year and when he was not crippled, the left end could not be circled. He won a laurel wreath in the Oklahoma University game when on being knocked senseless, he played a magnificent game.

In this man's estimation his best was none too good to give to his college. No man on the team had more "pep" and fight than Alan. He played in every quarter of every game and it is needless to say that very few gains were ever made through the right guard with Zoll at the post. He was the mainstay of the right side of the line and an All-Arkansas right guard.

"Brick" was a pillar of strength and the dread of opposing teams. He had hard luck with an injured knee and the team suffered when he was out, but when in the game he made up for his absence. All-Arkansas eleven.

RUDD, J. T.—Right End.

"Captain Jimmie" was always on the job to put fight into his men. In his old place at end he was superb. A crippled knee kept him out of several games but he played a sensational game against Oklahoma A. and M., though so lame that he could scarcely walk. The team loses a real man with Jimmie's graduation this year, after four years of successful playing.

HARDIN, T. H.—Quarterback.

"Little Temp", the "runt" quarterback who, though inexperienced, generalled the team like a veteran. His fleet-footedness, his clear head and his grit counted largely in giving Arkansas success.

FRAPPIA, A. I.—Fullback.

There are about three things that are ever called "Old Reliable"—a wagon, a tobacco, and a man. The first is so called because of its unmeasured duration, the second because of its frightful strength, and the third because he always does what he sets out to do. "Sody" was so called for all three reasons. Whenever a play got to a critical point and it was well-nigh impossible to advance the ball, the bleacher's demand was "Give it to Sody!" Their confidence in him was justified for seldom did "Sody" fail. He was always good-natured and full of fight. All-Arkansas halfback.

COCHRAN, M. W.—Utility.

Maurice, the halfback who was brimming over with "pep" and fight and who always endeavored to keep the line and backs filled with the "Arkansas spirit". He was a fierce line plunger and a sure ground gainer.

BAIN, JAMES—Quarterback.

Another runt. Jimmie was the swiftest man on the squad and his extreme speed was a great asset on his end runs.

SADLER, W. P.—Halfback.

Bill, our third little man, made up in spirit what he lacked in size. In losing him this year the team loses a good man and a successful player.

CARROLL, J. J.—End.

Carroll filled as no one else could Rudd's place when he was out. We need have no anxiety about the position of right end next year with Carroll out for the team.

WILSON, W.—End.

Bill's rare combination of size and speed made him of much service on the left end of the line. He is a hard tackler and an all round good player.

WELD, D. P.—Utility.

This was Dana's first year of Varsity football and his behavior under fire was commendable. His combination of size and strength were great assets to our well working machine.

DUBS, F. H.—Guard.

Ford, our right guard substitute, showed by his work on several occasions that in him Arkansas had a capable and earnest gridiron man. He displayed good work on the defensive, and his tackling was first class.

Review of Baseball Season, 1915

The season of 1914-15 opened with fair prospects for a winning team. Seven of last year's "A" men returned, and around this nucleus Coach Pickering built the team. At times the infield was brilliant and it may be considered the fastest infield Arkansas has produced for several seasons—Ellison, Cook, Tanner and Smith. The outfield was well cared for by Captain Geren, "Sody" Davidson and "Nub" Cannon. The hard hitting of the outfield was a great factor in the Varsity's victories. The pitching staff had only one old man back and things looked blue for that department until practice started and we saw Walkup and Leverett throw. Both of these freshmen proved to be excellent pitchers and after the college season they received tryouts with the Western Association. The batting average of the team was high.

The team showed its strength by holding the St. Paul leaguers of the American Association as well as the Chicago Federals to a small score. For the rest of the season, Arkansas won the majority of the games played, and the season taken as a whole was a credit to the University.

GERÉN, J. M. (Capt.)—Center Field—
"Jerry."

Jerry played exceptionally good ball all through the season. He was especially useful in a pinch. Even in the tightest places, he never gave up, and more than one game was won on account of Jerry's ability to come back at the critical moment. He proved to be a good leader for the squad.

DAVIDSON, GENE, Right Field—"Sody."

"Sody" was a very lucky find for Arkansas. He ranked with the best in his work with the stick, and his pep and ginger went a long ways towards keeping the team together. Taking it all for all, he was the most popular player on the squad, and although a first year man, made an enviable record. Bleacherites were always begging "Sody" for base hits.

CANNON, A. R., Left Field—"Nub."

"Nub" went through the entire season without making a single error. He was considered rather a weak hitter but his wallops were timely and well placed. Although a first year man on the Varsity, he was Pickering's secretary.

ELLISON, H. S., Third Base—"Crook."

"Crook" still retains the reputation of being the heaviest hitter on the team. His popularity resulted in his being elected captain of the team in 1915-16. In addition to being a first class ball player, "Crook" also has quite a reputation as a lady's man.

COOK, JAKE, Short Stop—"Big Six."

Jake was the midget of the team. He was usually employed as lead-off man and his heavy hitting was one of the surprises of the season. Few balls that came his way ever escaped his glove.

SMITH, F. B., Second Base—"Jack."

Held down his old position on second in good form all through the season. Although never known to exert himself, few balls escaped his notice, or better than that, his glove.

TANNER, J. L., First Base—"Joe."

Joe still holds his I. O. U. for $4.00 from Coach Pickering. His main weakness was in watching the grandstand instead of the game. He held down the initial sack with credit.

PAYNE, WESTON, Catcher—"Buck."

Silence has always been and will continue to be his motto. Buck was sure to be on hand in a pinch, and is generally considered to be one of the best catchers that ever donned an Arkansas uniform.

WALKUP, J. H., Pitcher—"Jimmie."

Jimmie was the leading pitcher on the squad. Was the team's tenderfoot, and during the season almost learned to cuss. He pitched from the port side—nuff said.

BENTON, S. W., Pitcher—"Percy."

Percy's grouch was always present—long, lanky, lean. He was a most excellent pitcher for hitting practice on the squad and could always be relied on to untie difficult knots that the team had tied in their chances of victory.

PALMER, R. C., Catcher, Utility—"Humpty."

His strong point is his "hot air peg" to second. His terrific line drives over the infield caused many collisions among opposing infielders. His ready wit also pulled Arkansas out of many a deep hole. Is known to have pitched one game in St. Louis.

LEVERETT, G. V., Pitcher—"Sloppy" or "Gyp."

The student of the baseball team. He showed up in baseball as he did in football the season before, and that is saying a good deal.

The Arkansas Reserves

Besides the local games, the Reserves played two games at Ft. Smith with Ft. Smith High School, winning the first 6 to 0 and tying the second, 13 to 13. The two other out of town games were lost, one to Springfield, (Mo.) Normal, 26 to 19; and the other to the Talequah, (Okla.) Normal, 14 to 7.

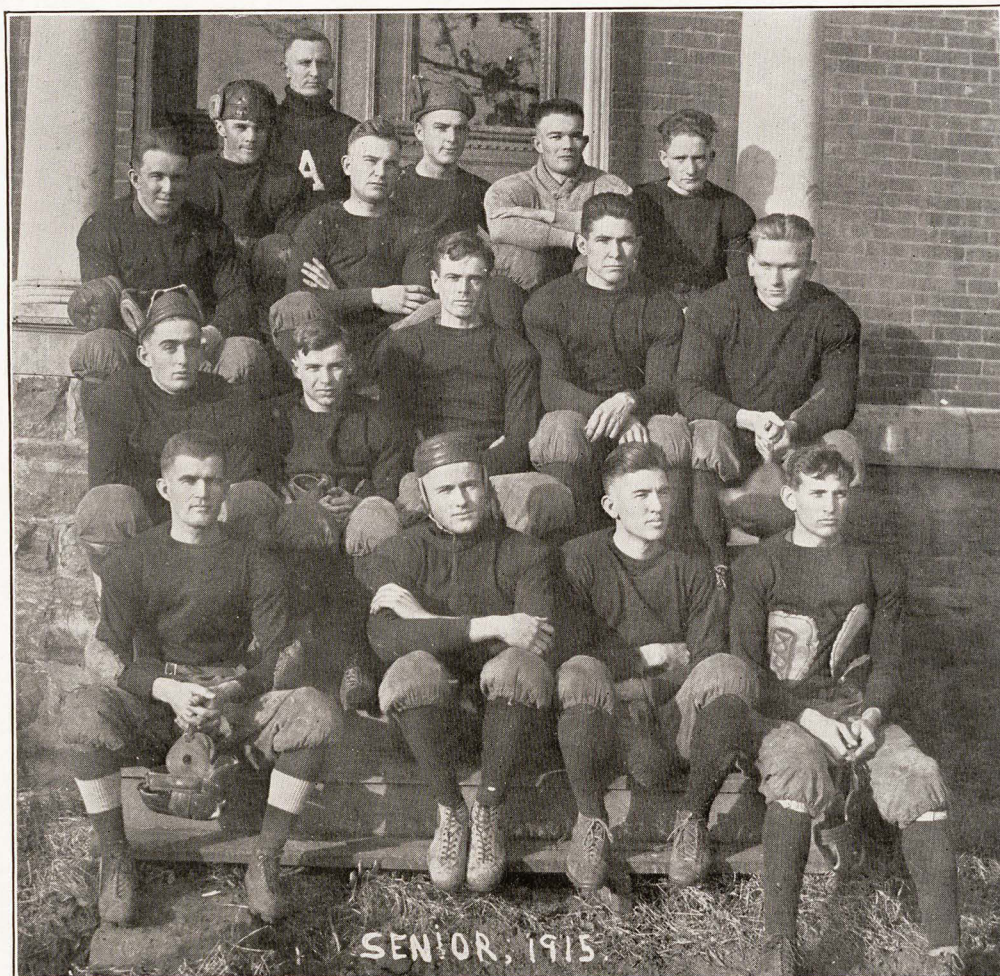

The team was composed of the following men:

THINGS WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW—

Who nailed Prexy's derby to the newell-post of Hill Hall.
Who founded the A. C. A.
Where Big Turner buys his clothes.
Who Hilda Stone is going to follow to the Philippines.
Who could sleep with Ye Gods Riddling.
Where the dog bit Paul Cochran.
How Squat Matthews got his name.
Who wants Prof. Lussky to have the measles.
What size sweater Bus Hale ordered.
Who wrote the sonnet entitled "Lament" in the March Arkansan
Where J. I. Carter hasn't been.
Several things that Brooks Hays said.
Who is Cozette Campbell.
Who sent Tap Gill a sun-kissed lemon.
Where Squint and Mick go every night.
Who put Jim Oliver's and G. Y. Short's name on the Jeff Hall side walk.
Who dubbed Adeline Lincoln "Speedy?"
Why Carrie Pace sleeps with the light burning.
How many kinds of detective work Maurice Cochran has been engaged in this year.
How Big Turner put out the fire at Engineering Hall.
Why the light bill is so large in 135 Gray Hall.
When Sot Meadows sleeps.
Why Prof. Hancock wears no hat.
Why Prof. H. A. Brown changed the wireless so much.
Why Chris Reichardt cleaned up his dive.
Who swept out Tap Gill's room.
When K. Oldham goes to school.
Who was Tuffy Harville's affinity.
Why Luke Cooperider wears shoes.
Who stole Horace Horton's cane.

FROM OLD CARDINALS.

1908-'09.

November 21. Mrs. Crocket issues an order at the Dormitory that the boys shall not cheer when girls come into the dining room, because it embarrasses them.

January 20. Eleven Latin ponies are ridden to death in preparation of examinations.

Lloyd C. Parsons a member of the sub-freshman class.

November 2. Y. W. C. A. delegates return from St. Louis. Misses Holcomb and Sly represent latest styles.

November 18. Professor Futrall looked as if he wanted to smile.

Heber Flinn (of the junior class)—"A blonde boy with a wee, small voice. He is all the rage with the ladies, who adore his auburn hair."

"Some drink to the fields of Norway,
Some drink to the beautiful Rhine;
Some drink to the Alpine Mountains,
And so on down the line;
But none of these have caught my eye,
Or made my brain to whirl;
The worker of this miracle
Is 'The Dormitory Girl.'"

1910-'11.

"Now Parsons, our sergeant, he drilleth them all,
He, it is said, is so awfully tall,
That should he e'er stumble,
And make himself humble,
It would take him five minutes to fall."

R. R. Downs (to his folks at home Christmas)—"Yes, we have several literary societies at the University, the best being the Garland, one of whom I am which."

1911-'12.

J. E. Sharp (of sophomore class)—“He was, is, and shall be.”

September 28. Goobe Wilson—“I tell you that commandant is no respecter of persons. He yelled at me something awful.”

To Ruth McKinney

“You can lead a horse to water,
But you cannot make him drink;
You can use a Latin pony,
But you cannot make him think.”

1912-'13.

E. U. Stevenson (of sophomore class)—“Fools rush in where angels fear to tread.”

Helene Hinds (of sophomore class)—The magnificent. A liberal patron of arts and letters.

J. W. Oliver (of sophomore class)—“Company D excused.”

“Little Miss Hargis, come out and call;
There are boys in the corridor, girls in the hall.
Oh, where are the o. d.'s that look after the noise?
They're gone with the good old days and so we rejoice.”

1913-'14.

There is an alumnus of the University of Arkansas who started with fifty cents, and in twenty years he was the possessor of $100,000 because of his frugality, thrift, and good habits, and because of the fact that his rich uncle died and left him $99,999.50.

1914-'15.

Miss Metzgar.—“Would you like to take designing?”

Freshman Girl.—“Oh, heavens, no! Mother wants me to take something easy like cooking and logic.”

The seniors have their plans,
The juniors have a hope;
The sophs have belts in hand,
The fish furnish the dope.

PROVERBS XXXII.

1. Use of proverbs. 5. Fear of faculty. 11. Knowledge of profs. 20. Instructions to virgins.

THE counsels of Solomon, the seventh son of the seventh son of the seventh son of a Solomon who has lived on the banks of the Nile, yea, even to the seventh generation.

2. To know the use of bull and the deceiving of the profs.

3. To lend an air of learning to the ignorant; and poise and grace to the foolish,

4. To understand the meaning of a full house; and to appear wise as to the words of the faculty and their dark sayings.

5. ¶ The fear of the faculty is the beginning of learning; but a fool despiseth the translation of a Latin pony.

6. My son, hear the instruction of the foolish, and forsake forever the law of thy father.

7. For now that thou art 21, thou knowest more than the old man who provideth thee with kale.

8. My son, if they entice thee to go to the Lyric when thou shouldst study, go thou, for thou canst study tomorrow and Neptune's Daughter may appear again never.

9. A foolish man studieth his lessons, and worketh unto the late hours, but a wise man bulleth his profs.

10. My son, receive my words and hearken unto what I shall say, for it will save thee from much hard work.

11. ¶ Know thy profs, yea even as a miser knoweth his gold, know whether he be prohi or anti, whether he be pro-Hodges or pro-Brough, and be thou likewise.

12. Know whether he wanteth thee to wiggle thy hand or no, and at all times look wise, especially when thou doth not know the answer.

13. A wise man knoweth wisdom when he seeth it, but the foolish leaveth his pony in his exam blank.

14. A foolish man cutteth not his classes, but the wise one handeth in the certified upon honor excuses.

15. My son, forget not thou to go two higher on the royal flush, lest thou may appear to be short or seem to have feathers on thy legs.

16. Neither forget not to scratch thy name on the walk, for a wise man maketh his mark but the foolish pass by and future generations see not where he has been.

17. Pass thy examinations from thy notes, but steal not the cane of a senior,

18. For it rileth him up and maketh him angry, so that he wanteth to fight:

19. But lay thou low and his anger will subside, he will become harmless unto thee; yea even as a little lamb.

20. ¶ My daughter, thou, too, shouldst hearken unto my instruction and follow not the counsels of thy mother:

21. For they are old by twenty years, and are not of today.

22. Learn thou maxixe, and forget thou not the hesitation.

23. Laugh thou at the jokes of thy escort, lest he take another to the next show;

24. And forget thou not to look lovingly at the Palace when thou passeth or else he may think that thou art not feminine, and liketh not the nut sundaes.

25. Yea, hearken unto these words of wisdom and thou shalt be called wise; follow them, and thou shalt prosper. Selah.

19  16

J. C. CARROLL—"Three thousand ducats, three thousand ducats!"

Prof. Nourse—"Statistics prove that there are more men than women in the United States."

Carrie Pace (frantically from the back of the room)—"Prof. Nourse, I don't believe that's so."

Olive Sue Davidson—"I'm almost related to Dr. Jewell!"

Annie K.—"How's that?"

Olive Sue—"His secretary goes with my roommate."

Member of the Bachelors Club, commenting on a visit to Carnall Hall—"I was afraid I wouldn't know what to do when I got there, but I saw the other fellows sign their names in a book, so I did too."

Cantrell—"My purse is an aching void."

Coker—"Mine hasn't enough sense to ache."

Here lies Clifford Hoyle,
We'll never see him more;
He thought he took castor oil,
But it was  $\text{H}_2\text{SO}_4$ .

Dr. Thomas (in history 10)—"In what direction from the North Pole is Alaska?"

Miss Horton—"Why, it is southwest."

Vee Womack—"Prof. Strauss, do you really consider Horace or Virgil the greater poet?"

Prof. Strauss—"Yes, Miss Womack, yes——"

Clementine Rogers, announcing Y. W. C. A.—"Come to Y. W. C. A. this afternoon and hear one of the biggest men in the University, Dr. Hancock."

Dr. Thomas (in history 10)—"Mr. Dudney, what is the Sherman anti-trust law?"

X-RAY.

Pons Asinorum.

The last few days have witnessed a sad departure from the sacred and time-honored customs of the University. Innocent and peace-loving pedestrians have been startled and shocked beyond measure by witnessing many of the members of the great and green class of 1919 on the streets accompanied by immense canes and appropriately colored ribbons. It is indeed an outrage for these freshmen to dare wear such tokens of their extreme verdancy and the general opinion among all students who have the interests of the University at heart is that it should not be permitted. There are rumors afloat that drastic measures are to be taken and that each freshman guilty of the offense will be hung, drawn and quartered by a selected committee from the dormitories. I do not know that such measures are wise. In fact, it seems to me that the freshmen should be encouraged in this course. As the title of this X-Ray, "pons asinorum", indicates, the freshmen are travelling the "way of fools."

LOCALS.

The Razorback came out Monday.

Freshman Key sore because he was not mentioned.

J. B. Best left town on an indefinite leave of absence. Whereabouts unknown.

Faculty well pleased with Razorback.

C. B. Ford is away on business.

L. O. Leach decides to major in French 1.

The only occupant of the infirmary this week was Vance Sailor. He will be out in about three weeks as the bruises on his head and body are doing nicely.

Vernon Tarver has been appointed as student assistant in the department of trigonometry as that is his major subject.

C. O. Richardson lost the decision for middle-weight champion of Hill Hall.

Published by ANTI-LOVE SOCIETY,
1 Buck Hall.

Bill Shumaker wants to know why everyone laughs when they meet him.

"Exams? Oh, well, they're what General Sherman said about war. They're fierce."

Ruth Morton.—"I thought you took biology 1 last year."
Lentes.—"I did, but Prof. Pickel encored me."

Time—Almost any recitation.

Place—History of education class.

Circumstances—Prof. Torreyson a visitor.

Dr. Jewell.—"Now, Stokes, tell us something about Queen Elizabeth. Over what country did she rule?"

Stokes.—"Why, she was queen of Spain."

Betty Coffey.—"No, she gave Columbus some ships for his voyage. Well, she did, didn't she?"

Bridges.—"Well, I don't know. Anyway, she lived at the time of the revolution in France—the French revolution, you know."

Freshman girl.—"Mr. Courson, shall I call you 'William' or 'Her-shia'?"

New Drill Regulations.

Major Parsons.—"Column of companies, second company go straight up."

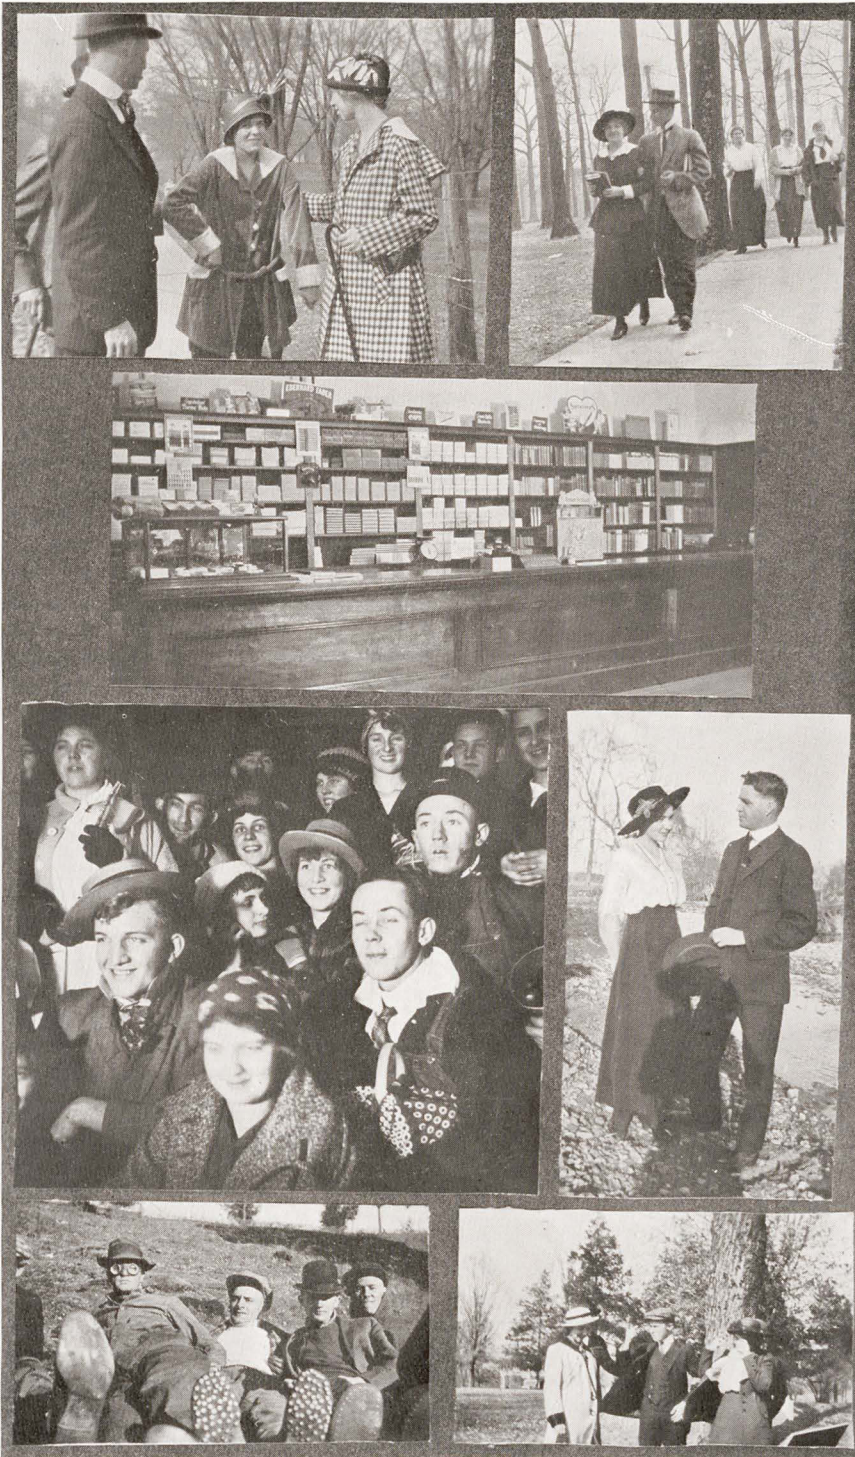

Lieut. Pape.—"You corporals in the rear rank get a line to the right!"

Harold Townsend stayed in Gray Hall for three months before he found out that "damn freshman" was not all one word.

The ambition of Lloyd Oneal's life is to install dictaphones in every room in Carnall Hall, and have them connected with his room in Gray Hall. He figures that by subletting various wires of his system, he could make at least $167.92 per month.

Campustry classes are not as large now as formerly. The Beta Gamma will probably come out of the caves after leap year.

UG COFFIELD—"Sorry my feet were too big for the picture."

A group of icehouses went up in flames recently and according to a newspaper report, "twelve hundred tons of ice were reduced to ashes."

A petition has recently been submitted to the University Senate asking that senior boys who take campustry be forced to choose their colleagues from the senior class and not from the freshman class.

Cleveland Cabler (discussing Napoleon's campaign)—"One of the biggest feats that Napoleon achieved was the getting of his army over the pyramids."

Gladys Teeter (in geology 1).—"The source of Arkansas rains is from the northeast westerly winds."

A woman of taste is known by the perfume she uses.

Speck Merrill, Stobaugh and G. A. Perdue showed much histrionic talent in the performance of "Everywoman" at Fayetteville on April 8. The mob scene would not have been a success without them.

Fred Ellington gave as an excuse for breaking a date that he went to take a nap in the afternoon and slept until three the next morning.

Cleveland Cabler, dramatically.—"The die is cast. Caesar has crossed the Rhine!"

Adaline Lincoln.—"I had the measles when I was five or six years old and I can't remember a thing that happened during the time."

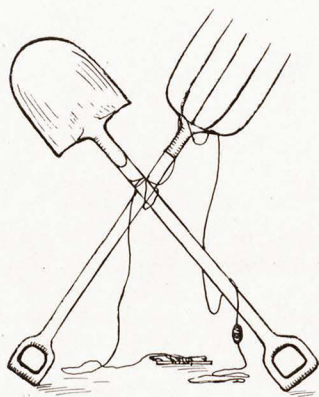

Charles McDonald.—"No wonder you can't remember. It has been so long ago."

A riddle.—What is it that is as hard as rock and as cold as ice?
Answer.—Toast at Carnall Hall.

"There comes Bill Dunn to dun Dunn for his laundry bill. Dunn has done been here three times to dun Dunn."

P. D. Moncrief.—"Do you object to capital punishment?"
Ketchum.—"No, if it isn't too severe."

The Agri field work class had gradually worked down to the vicinity of Carnall Hall. Byron Everready Johnson leveled the transit at a certain section of the second floor and sighted for about ten minutes. When asked what he was doing, he said—"I'm trying to locate Polaris, but haven't had any luck." Hereafter when Byron calls up Carnall Hall we will listen and see if he asks for Miss Polaris.

Hilda Stone, in all seriousness to Cora Woolf, after having formed a new resolution to use good English at all times.—"Say, kiddo, I'm goin' to cut out slang."

There was a professor named Lussy,
Who had a deep voice that was husky;
He was a great student,
Exceedingly prudent,
And kept all his classes till dusk(y).

James Walker (the little Post boy, to his partner, after having tried to sell a Post to the Lieutenant).—"Gee, I wish I'd had a Ladies' Home Journal and I could have sold it to the bull-dog man."

Virginia Osborne (to George Wells).—"How are you this morning?"
George.—"Fine as morning glories before the dew leaves them."
Virginia.—"You look fresh."

Catherine Cabeen.—"I have just received an invitation to the Engineers' stunt."

Adaline Lincoln.—"Who's it from?"

Catherine.—"Mr. Payne."

Adaline.—"Misery loves company."

Rose Ryan (pointing to Prof. Williams).—"And who is he?"
Hilda Stone (innocently).—"That's Prof. Williams, of the English department. He is a champion prize-fighter."
Rosey.—"I noticed what an athletic walk he has."

Dr. Jewell (by way of opening a lecture).—"Some people are going—well, I might as well say it—to the devil."

There was a lieutenant named Boschen,
Who went for a sail on the ocean;
And when he came back,
He bought up a tract,

Skeet Hinton.—"I'm not engaged to any particular girl."
Young Lady.—"I know you are not engaged to a particular girl."

Dr. Jewell, on handing back some examination papers, had a sheet left, and holding it up, said—"Anybody short here?"
Short.—"Here."

His old lady—"F-i-n-a-n-c-i-a-l-l-y. And there's two r's in 'embarrassed'."

Another One on Ford.

Professor Osborne had been showing John Casey, who had just arrived, some of the stock on the University farm.

John, pointing to C. B. passing by—"What kind of a critter do you call that, professor?"

Tubby Mullins entered the commandant's office and said he wanted to enter the University.

Tap Gill—"What department do you want to enter?"

Tubby—"Dancing department."

Tap—"Go down those stairs at the south end of the building and classify with Miss Miller."

Freshman Pierce entered Carnall Hall with a suitcase in his hand and told Miss Davis that he wanted to engage a room . . . . .

(The rest of this incident was deleted by the censor.)

Hilda Stone—"The first time I heard of the University I thought it surely must be a sickly place."

Annie King—"Why?"

Hilda—"Because I heard of so many doctors up here—Dr. Thomas, Dr. Jewell, Dr. Brough, etc."

While sitting on the porch swing, Blanche Evatt, thinking that she would display some knowledge of drill to Jake Johnston, gave the following order—"Drop in arms."

Jake dropped.

Quite So.

Dr. Jones—"Mr. Johnson, do you drive or toll a donkey along?"

Whom Does This Remind You Of?

Professor.—“Instead of the ordinary recitation this morning I will substitute a written examination. (Great excitement; two men near the door quit their conversation.) I am a great believer in the honor system, so I will not exercise any supervision over you. However, for convenience, I will have you sit two seats apart. Although I have implicit confidence in your honor, I will divide the class into two divisions, and give each alternate row a different question. You will please bring your notebooks to my desk and leave them here, lest they get in your way and interfere with your writing. While the examination goes on, I will stroll around the room, not for the purpose of supervision, but simply to benefit my liver. The examination will now begin.”—Ex.

Prof. Morrow.—“Singles, what kind of timber would you prefer for a bow (beau)?”

Singles.—“Fir.”

Mr. Stone, thinking that Mr. Waterman used the textbook, “Human Behavior,” happened to ask him this question just as Mr. Waterman was taking a bite of pie:

“Do you use ‘Human Behavior’?”

“I try to,” replied Mr. Waterman.

A talkative girl dancing with Marshall Shackelford.—“Why don’t you talk?”

Shackelford.—“I’m carrying the conversation around.”

Lives of seniors all remind us,
That we should strive for G’s and E’s,
And, departing, leave for others,
Themes that will not give them P’s.

Gladys Morgan had just returned from a week’s stay at the infirmary.

“Well, Gladys, did you have a good time there?” she was asked.

“I guess I did,” acknowledged Gladys. “I was in the same room with Jim P. and got proctored twice.”

Dr. Jewell.—“Every 140 pounds of your body is worth $7.40 and by this ratio you can figure out exactly how much you are worth.”

The Sad Story of Mac.

A charming young fellow named Mac,
Who was known as a star on the track,
Once met a girl
With a mischievous curl.
And in beauty she nothing did lack.

And this beautiful girl with the curl,
Set Mac's flutt'ring heart all awlirl.
And the way she could smile
Made Mac glad all the while;
He was sure he had captured a pearl.

But before Mac could ask for her hand,
She went to a far-away land,
Which, sad to relate,
Was to settle Mac's fate,
Although he still kept up his stand.

For to Mac she had promised to write,
And he answered with all of his might.
But one sad, dark day
Came a letter to Ray,
Which we're sure you'll agree was not right.

For this beautiful girl with the curl
Ran away with a boisterous churl,
And her letters galore,
Came to poor Mac no more,
Which made him feel small like a squirrel.

—Sequel.

Landmarks In the University.

A. N. Thomas—Champion lady fusser of seven states.

J. C. Wilkes—Fastest talker in Arkansas. Tenth oldest man in Buch Hall.

“Spike”—Second in command in Room 4.

Mr. Carlson—Lord high marshal of the grades.

Jack Uzzelle—Greatest exponent of the gentle art of flunking.

Big Turner—Tallest man in America, next to Jess Willard.

Mutt Higgs—Freshest freshman on record; still fresh.

Tubby Mullins—Most prominent figure in the university, next to H. D. T.

Herbert Faisst—Only Arkansas exponent of Kultur.

Jim Oliver—President of the Tri Eta.

Ray Martin—President of the Beta Gamma, deceased.

Carey Hendrix—First man to be canned from the Beta Gamma.

Tap Gill—Joke editor of the Cardinal, 1915.

Uzzelle, Ford, Best—Same office in 1916.

J. W. Nyegaard—Longest winded man in the world, including Texas.

—————(name censored)—Only U. of A. supporter of Earl Hodges.

G. Y. Short—Most wicked man in the University.

Whenever a freshman first reports for the Weekly, he is tried out on Convocation. His journalistic career in the University is made or marred by the way in which he handles this topic. Here is the way one man handled the situation. He has never become editor-in-chief, but is still on the staff:

“Convocation.—The meeting was held in a big room on the north side of the schoolhouse. There were a big crowd present and nearly all sat near the front. While the choir was selecting the hymns, a little fellow with a big board in his hand went around looking at all the seats. I don't know what he was doing. Then the music started. There was a awful big man at the piano. I heard some of the fellows call him ‘Henry.’ The choir sang two songs. I couldn't tell what they were, but they had pretty strong voices. Then a man with a little pointed beard they all called ‘Daddy’ got up and made some announcements. Another man with a soldier's suit on got up and made a lot of fuss over some sticks. The meeting closed with a prayer by Prof. Williams.”

Be a Fashion Shop Dressed Man

The consensus of opinion among the better dressed men about the University is greatly in favor of our store.

Instinctively men prefer Fashion Shop togs.

Bob Brown.—“Hey, Olive, aren't you with the wrong man?”
Ollie S.—“Yes, I don't know where Vance and Willard are.”

Jimmie Bain to Johnnie Greenfield, who was catching for the Engineers.—“You're a good catcher just like my Uncle Pete—and I ain't got any Uncle Pete!”

It was during the summer of 1915 and Clem Carolan was at the Methodist Church one Sunday night. The only reason he went to the Methodist was because he was very anxious to see a certain young lady. He apparently did not see her, for after the service he asked Coker:

“Say, Coker, I wonder where Madge was tonight? I didn't see her.”

“Well, I guess you looked the wrong way, for she was in the choir.”

Problem.

If there are 500 seats at the Ozark what is the probability that Willard McConnell would get a seat beside a certain young lady, provided that he had not been doing a little amateur detective work?

J. I. Carter.—“Yes, I certainly was sick. My fever went up to 105.”

A. R. Sugg.—“In the shade?”

Another Discovery.

Otho Hollett, discussing expansion caused by heat.—“An example of this may be seen in the summer; when it is hot the days are long, and in the winter when it is cold, the days are short.”

WHO'S WHO AND WHY.

Professor H. A. Brown, electrical engineer and wireless expert. He can put up and change a wireless aerial in more different ways than can any other man in the United States.

"Woodrow" Wilson, a junior member of the Tau Beta Pi, an all round good fellow, has kept more people awake after midnight than any other man in the dormitory, spoiled more silver thoughts in two seconds than a German siege gun could in three weeks. He has done it all singing. The greatest singer that Buch Hall ever produced.

Roy Railroad Richard Rodman "Goat" Downs, the best looking man in the University, always accompanies a cane, never chased by water-melon rinds, just can't fall in love. The only R. R. D. in existence.

Lieutenant Boschen, the man that put the U. of A. on the map, discoverer of graft in Congress, commandant, professor, member of discipline committee, member of student publications committee, charter member and chief exponent of the Beta Sigma. His reputation is made, by golly.

Hilda Stone or Lentes Carmichael, politician, suffragette, lover, and an aspiring young lady. Would not marry if she got a dozen chances. "Hickey and Mutt" instead of "Mutt and Jeff" is her slogan.

Scott Hamilton, Belinda, originator of the Roll Call, captain in general, lover of peace. Scott covers his ground always, and certainly covers all he stands on. Loves French and——(her name was censored.)

Professor Droke, the most obliging man in many ways that the University has ever produced, a cordial opponent of the Beta Sigma and Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. More than one footstep has faltered before entering the Sanctum Sanctorum of his office. Many have entered but few have returned—smiling.

J. I. Carter, member of the Gray Hall Uplift, traveler of renown, and should be rector of the Beta Sigma. He has been in every town in the United States, and has traveled in Europe and Asia. Irvin doesn't really intend for us to believe it all, anyway.

Nolen Irby, only surviving member of the Beta Gamma, star member of the Beta Sigma, lover of all six graders and certain grown-ups of the sweeter sex. Nolen never helped strap a fellow in his life, but is very fond of "mistletoe stories." Lost his reputation stunt night.
